

Changing Perspectives

We'll share strategies to break out of old habits and write lyric and songs that are fresh, innovative and uniquely you. Bring a pair of shoes, as we will most likely be stretching our legs for a little walk down to the river.

Creative Collaboration (with more than just people)

We will break off into groups and start generating ideas, hooks, rhythms and yes...songs.

A Little Common Sense Goes A Long Way

An interactive breakdown of the senses and how we can use them to connect with our audience, but more importantly, ourselves.

Presence Presents

Stage presence isn't just for the stage. You tell stories to people all the time. With some fun exercises we are going to stretch your boundaries on presence, projection, punctuation and other words that start with P.
